The committee did not disclose the information which indicated that three of the applicants would soon be eligible.

Mr. Schmitt, one of the committee, wanted to amend the report by taking four of the names on the list of the approved and putting them among the rejected.

"Only five of shose teachers have been abandoned by their husbands," he said. "In the case of the four others, they cannot be appointed under our hy laws, as their husbands are living with them and are able to support them." support them."

Mr. Lummis introduced a resolution that the department give a life saving medal to the teacher or principal who shall rescue life at her own peril in case of a fire or a panic in school. This was adopted.

Supt. Maxwell reported that there is a saloon within seventy-five feet of the public school at Blaumont avenue and 183d street. It was decided to ask the Excise Department to annul the license.

There was a heated discussion over the nomination of Maurice J. Thompson as principal of Public School 8 by the board of superintendents. Supt. Maxwell said that Magnus Gross, the acting principal, had signed a waiver and was not a candidate and that it had been so reported to the elementary schools committee.

"I want to say that it was not so reported to the committee," declared Chairman Wilsey, as he jumped to his feet and looked at Mr. Maxwell.

"I heard Mr. Davis tell your committee. Perhaps you misunderstood him," added the superintendent.

The matter was referred to the com-mittee on elementary schools.

POLICEMAN INVOKES JEROME. And Bazor Case Does Not Get Away as scheduled.

District Astorney Jerome was hustling Fout of Judge Cowing's court in General Sessions yesterday, when a policeman held

'This is a shame," said the cop. 'You ought to knew about this. I've got a nigger over here who has withdrawn a complaint against a man who almost cut his head off. The nigger has been in the hospital for a long time, and at one time he was so near death that a Coroner took his ante-mortem statement. Now he's down here, and I'm here, and he's signed a relase." "Give me the name of the case," said Mr.

Jerome. The policeman, John Coleman of the West Sixty-eighth street station, explained that Samuel Prior, a negro, of 238 West Sixty-second street, had almost carved off Frank Brown's head in a street row on April 18. Mr. Jerome went to Assistant District Attorney Townsand and told him

District Attorney Townsend and told him to try the case at once. Lawyer Hugh Coleman, Prior's counsel, told Mr. Jerome that the complaint had been withdrawn.

"The case will be tried," said Mr. Jerome. It was called very soon and Lawyer Coleman asked for delay on the ground that he couldn't get his witnesses. Judge Cowing made the prosecution put in its case and told Lawyer Coleman to be ready with his defense this morning.

"Did you know to whom you were talking?" some one asked Coleman before Mr. "Jerome left the courtroom.

"Of course, I did," said the cop. "I knew that was Jerome and he'd give me a square deal. I've got a pretty had post, and I have enough trouble without letting a brigger like that get away from me."

As Mr. Jerome was leaving the courtroom Coleman stopped him.

"I'm sorry to have troubled you," he opologized.

"That's all right," said Mr. Jerome.

"You did exactly the right thing."

MRS. STRONG'S SUDDEN DEATH. Left Alone, She Took Her Life to a Fit of Temperary Insanity.

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., May 10.-The friends of Mrs. Benjamin Strong, Jr., were shocked to hear of her sudden death this morning at her home in Chestnut street. She had been suffering from nervous exhaustion for some time, although her illness had not been acute. She had never fully recovered after the birth of her fourth child, six months ago.

Under the advice of Dr. Bell of this city she spent some weeks recently at Atlantic City, and the change had seemed to benefit her materially. Advice was also sought of Dr. C. L. Dana of New York city.

of Dr. C. L. Dana of New York city.

Although apparently gaining in strength and cheerfulness. Mrs. Strong was evidently not at all herself, for this morning during the temporary absence of her husband from her room she got possession of a revolver that had been in the house since a burglar scare of several months ago, and in a fit of what the physicians characterize as temporary insanity took her life.

The news of Mrs. Strong's death is espe-The news of Mrs. Strong's death is especially distressing to her friends because of the unusually happy and ideal home life which she led, possessing the entire devotion of her husband and a host of friends. She was born and spent her early life in Cincinnati. She was a daughter of John LeBoutilier of New York. Mr. Strong is secretary of the Bankers' Trust Company of New York city.
